

Missing the Mark

Caps hamstring victims, fail to slow rising costs of care, malpractice insurance

January 2010

Corboy & Demetrio attorney, David R. Barry, Jr., discusses medical malpractice caps and the Illinois law that places limits on the compensation available to victims of medical malpractice in "Missing the Mark," an article published in Modern Healthcare magazine. He argues that the limits are not fair to victims and fail to lower healthcare costs and doctor's malpractice insurance. Read the full article here.

Attorneys

- David R. "Chip" Barry, Jr.

Related Practices

- Medical Negligence