Corboy & Demetrio is proud of the advancements it has made and continues to make in the technology arena. Our Information Technology department has over 40 years combined experience and delivers a variety of technological solutions to our attorneys and staff in order to enhance and complement their work. Providing advanced technological methods that allows them to concentrate on our clients' needs and expectations is the goal of the dedicated staff of the IT department.

Following is but a few of those investments:

State-of-the-Art computer equipment, featuring reliable, robust servers with unfailing back-up systems;

Special video-conferencing equipment;

Ability to share documents and research at the push of a button;

Advancing towards a paperless library system;

Utilizing a variety of current software programs to assist the attorneys in their practices including ProLaw, Summation, PowerPoint, Sanction, 3d Software, Medical Illustrator, Dazzle Video Creator, Trial Director, Trial Pro, Video Creator, and Smart-Draw for medical time-lines, as well as a host of others;

Technologically trained attorneys and staff who utilize the most current telecommunications systems available to stay connected at all times and at any given place.
